HAMPSHIRE COAL.

CARGO OF 275 TONS HAMPSHIRE COAL DAily expected from Baltimore.
This coal is bituminous, and perhaps the best coal known for steam purposes, whether for locomotives or steamboats. It is used almost exclusively by Northern railroad companies and the Cunard Steamers. It is also represented as the best blacksmith's coal in the country, and is very extensively used in iron works for forging, etc. It is soft and friable, the fine coal being as good for use as the lump.
The attention of railroad companies, iron works and machine shops, is particularly invited to the importance of a trial of this coal.
The undersigned having been appointed agent for the Hampshire and Baltimore Coal Company, will be prepared to furnish any quantity required, at a reasonable price.
Orders respectfully solicited.

Desirable Farm for Sale.

THE PLANTATION SITUATED ABOUT TWO and a half miles from the village of Magnolia on the Wilmington and Weldon R. R., between that place and Kenansville, and known as "Barbacue," is offered for sale. The tract contains 360 acres, 100 of which are cleared and have been under cultivation, producing excellent Corn, Wheat, potatoes, &c. A portion of the land is also well adapted to the culture of cotton. An inexhaustible bed of Marl, a large spring of as good water as can be found in the State, and a never failing stream running through the center of the cleared land, are among the attractions of the place.
The timbered portion of the land being nearest the Rail Road, and the entire place being easy of access to a first rate market, make it a highly desirable location for growing produce, raising stock and selling timber. Any one having the cash, can procure a bargain by applying immediately to

Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,
OR BONE MANURE.
WARRANTED GENUINE.
BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.
We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.
Messrs B H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:
"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime for four years—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.
"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing.
"Very respectfully,
"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,

IMPORTANT SALE.

ON WEDNESDAY, THE 24TH OF JANUARY, 1866, I shall offer for sale, my plantation in Bertie County, lying on the Roanoke River, three miles from Hill's Ferry on said river, and six from the village of Woodville in Bertie County containing 1000 acres, more or less; 500 acres cleared and well adapted to the growth of cotton, corn, wheat, &c.
There is a very fine opportunity to make a large cotton crop on the plantation the next year, as there is compost enough ready made to manure nearly 100 acres. The plantation made in 1864, 43,000 pounds of lint cotton, and 4,000 bushels of corn; and, with proper management, will do a great deal better for the next year, as the most of the cotton land has had rest for the past two years. A very great advantage which this farm has is its convenience to transportation being only one mile to a good landing on the river, where there is a regular line of steamers to Norfolk weekly. In addition to the above, this is the only river farm in this portion of the county that has fire wood enough, conveniently for use; there is an abundance here, and timber of almost every kind, cypress, oak, hickory, ash, gum, &c. Lumber dealers would do well to examine the land before the day of sale.
There are about 300 or 500 acres on this tract uncleared, which affords a fine range for hogs and a free access to numbers of acres of unenclosed lands readers it very profitable for the raising of cattle, colts &c.
The improvements consist of a gin house and cotton screw, overseer house, cabin among for 25 or 30 laborers, corn barns &c. All be same time and place. I shall sell 200 or 300 barrels of corn; fodder, mules, horses, hogs, farming utensils &c.
Terms for the land: one third cash, the balance in two equal instalments, payable respectively in 12 and 18 months, and title withheld until payments made. For the perishable property, cash.
For any further particulars, address the subscriber at Enfield Halifax county, N. C.

Are we not Mistaken?

The Southern people have manifested much concern for reconstruction since the failure of the Confederacy. This concern has been no ordinary one. Our people have seemed to feel that their future depended on early restoration. Hence every difficulty thrown in the way, has produced disappointment and regret.

The South with entire unanimity and cordiality accepted President Johnson's plan of reconstruction, and most warmly sustains his administration. The several States have responded with promptness to every demand made upon them by the government, yet the dominant party at the North are not content. Union is not what they desire—a Union upon the equality of States, is not what they will assent to, if they can help it. Power they want. To retain what they have and to grasp more, is what they are bent upon. They charge that the South ruled the government for the first seventy years. They allege that the slavocracy of the South was the lever by which the South exerted this power. Hence their anger at slavery and their purpose to destroy it. Their pleas of humanity about the negro—their over-flowing philanthropy on his account, is all gammon.

Now that slavery is dead, the game is not yet up. They know there is no profit in a free negro—that a dead slave puts no money in the pocket—but the freedmen may be employed to their advantage, to complete the utter political degradation of the South. Hence, their anxiety to educate them—to employ their own instruments in order to subordinate them to their purposes. Hence, the object of all their movements in Congress, and the barriers they will throw in the way of early reconstruction. Power over the South—utter, absolute power over us, politically, morally and socially, is what they want, and what they are determined to have.

Have we not been two anxious for reconstruction? Have we not been mistaken as to the profit to be gained to the South, by speedy reconstruction? After all, may not the President and the liberal wise men of the North and the entire South, be mistaken, in the assumption that the Southern States are still States? May it not be politically true that the Radicals are right, when they affirm that we are mere conquered provinces? Can they do better with us, than treat us as Territories subject entire to the legislation of Congress?

What is to be gained by the early restoration of North Carolina? As a State, she owes from eleven to fourteen millions of dollars.—Two-thirds of this is owned by Northern capitalists. As a State, her Counties, and City corporations owe many millions. Now if North Carolina be not a State but a conquered province, only fit for territorial government, does not that wipe out every dollar of her debt? If the State be dead, with no assets to administer upon, what then? If she be governed by Congress, of course Congress will foot the bills. If she be a conquered province—her property destroyed—her people without representation, with what propriety can Congress tax us?—These hints we throw out for the consideration of our Northern friends.

Purge the List.

The Legislature on Saturday commenced the work of appointing Magistrates. We regret to say, that the old regime was manifestly too closely followed, and we are likely to have a magistracy in the State, as inefficient and unnecessay as to numbers, as heretofore.

There is a want of manly independence among legislators all over the land. North Carolina is by no means different in this respect from other States. We wish it were different. We wish that the day had come, when every man who assumes public responsibility of any kind in the State, would learn to do his duty to his country, manfully, deliberately and agreeable to the voice of conscience and right, regardless of the effect of his conduct upon the future. There is too much pandering to Buncombe—too much holding with the hare and running with the hounds. We have had enough to test our mettle, to prove what sort of stuff we are made of, to truckle now to cross road clamor, or what may become of us in the next canvass. We want among us the spirit that "will do right if the stars fall"—the spirit of the old war-horse of the Union, who would "rather be right than be President."

No man in the State with the feelings of a good citizen, could feel chagrined or disturbed, if his name were left off the list of Justices of the Peace. It is a respectable and honorable position, but one not to be sought for or desired. It will not pay. Hence men of strict integrity, men of liberal public spirit, men of true courage and firmness should be chosen.

The responsibility of the appointment of every magistrate in the State, rests not upon the representatives from each county, but upon each individual member of the Legislature. Hence the lists should be fully read and those who recommend them should be enquired of, in regard to their characters and qualifications.

In these suggestions, we disclaim all partizan feelings, all prejudice against any, and all disposition to dictate; but we are consulting purely the good of society in general and the peace of the State.

Usury Laws.

Capital or money, like every other article of commerce, will seek a market. When it is abundant and the demand restricted, no one complains of a small rate of interest, but when the supply is small and the demand is large, it will be sure to seek a better market.

At no period in the history of this State and the South, has the demand for capital and the absolute necessity for its employment, been so great as at present. The war has left our people without capital, in the possession of lands, but without the means of their cultivation and improvement. Without the introduction of capital, our lands must remain idle, and the enterprise and resources of the State in all respects must remain dormant.

The question then which arises is, how can capital be brought into the State? How can our people be supplied with the necessary stimulus to industry and enterprize? We find the impression to be a growing one, among financiers, that the usury laws of the State, form a chief impediment to the introduction of capital. Everywhere money is worth more than 6 per cent. at present. In the South it is especially so. Hence at the present time, owing to the scarcity of it and the operation of our usury laws, those who obtain money on loan, are compelled to suffer an enormous shave.

The impression prevails among financiers, that if our usury laws were modified and made to contribute to the interest of capitalists to loan money to the Southern people, capital would seek investment among us at once.

It is, indeed, not a time to give encouragement to shylocks and sharpers. The straitened condition of our people will not bear a heavy shave. The war has shaved them almost to the bone. Yet capital must be had, or our enterprise must perish, and the little left our people must be sacrificed. How can we hope to obtain capital, unless we compete with other sections in inducing it to come among us?

This is an important question, and our Legislature will do well to consider it. Ordinarily, six per cent. is a reasonable interest, but when capital is so much in demand and so heavily taxed, it is not enough. We might enquire, why not leave money after fixing a uniform rate of interest, say 6 per cent. to share the fate of other commodities of commerce, by allowing every man to make his own contract for the use of it, always inserting in the bond the interest argeed upon. In such a case, money would only pass the ordinary tests of trade, and perhaps, break up entirely the demoralizing inducements to usury. We throw out these reflections for the consideration of the Legislature.

Treasurer's Report.

We present to our readers, to-day, the very clear and able report of the Public Treasurer, Kemp P. Battle, Esq. We have omitted the table, as too voluminous for our columns, and of no special interest to the general reader.

Mr. Battle, in this report, gives evidence of his thorough acquaintance with the subject of finance and the condition and wants of the State. A better officer could not have been selected for the position.

O! How this World is Given to Lying.—Edward P. Brooks, the Richmond correspondent of the New York Times, was attacked in Richmond yesterday by H. Rives Pollard, of the Examiner, who attempted to cowhide him. Mr. Brooks disarmed his assailant of the cowhide and threw it away, and then pummelled Pollard with his fists until the friends of the latter took him away.—New York Evening Post.

The above is a slightly different story from the one given by the Richmond papers.

Quite a Difference.—The little village of Raleigh—where the State Legislature meets, and where the Sentinel, the Standard and the Progress do flourish—has a police force of sixty men. The big city of Newbern—where big ships and steamboats and schooners come up from the uttermost parts of the sea—has only twenty. Such, we are told, is the difference between the two places. And yet we have fewer cases of large sized rascality to note than our Raleigh contemporaries.—Newbern Times.

If a small police has so happy an effect in Newbern, our city fathers will not be slow to profit by the example.—Sentinel.

Postal.

The Postmaster General has ordered the reopening of the following offices and appointed the following postmasters:

Bay River, Craven County; John W. Bryan, postmaster, vice J. J. Brabble.

East Bend, Yadkin County; Mrs. Nancy Phillips, postmistress, vice R. Phillips.

Smith Grove, Davie County; John Sheek postmaster, vice A. Sheek.

Huntsville, Yadkin County; George Craver postmaster, vice N. Bohannon.

Farmington, Davie County; Mrs. Sarah D. McGill postmistress, vice G. W. Johnson.

Richmond Hill, Yadkin County; re-appoint J. Williams postmaster.

Red Plains, Yadkin County; Elizabeth Poindexter postmistress, vice A. P. Poindexter.

Republic, Yadkin County; Stephen Hobson postmaster, vice E. C. Brown.

Death of The Rev. William C. Blount.—The Norfolk Day Book of yesterday says:—"When on yesterday we informed our readers of the terrible wound which this Christian gentleman had received by the discharge of a musket in the hands of the negro, Charles Nelmes, we did not dream that it would be our melancholy duty to-day to record the fact of his death. But contrary to the hopes of friends and the expectations of his attending physician, he expired on Wednesday night at one and a half o'clock at his residence on Swimming Point, in Portsmouth.

Railroad Enterprise.—Among the railroad enterprises of the Southern States, no one is more important than the Savannah, Griffin and North Alabama roads, completing a direct line between Savannah and Memphis. The grading is almost finished between the former place and the Chattahoochee river. The track lies through the coal fields and copper mines of North Alabama, which, when developed by this convenient means of transportation, will furnish inexhaustible sources of freight that can find an outlet in no other direction.

General Beauregard is busy with the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad, of which he is Superintendent.

PUBLIC TREASURER'S REPORT.

Treasury Department of N. C., Jan. 19th, 1866.

To the General Assembly of North Carolina:

On the 1st of January, 1866, I entered on the duties of my office as Public Treasurer. Since then the carrying on the collection and sale of the debris of State property, and answering numerous questions relative to the proper construction of the Revenue Ordinance of the Convention, as well as other duties, have left me little time for any elaborate report.

I beg leave, however, to present a few suggestions on subjects connected with my Department.

The tables appended will give full information in regard to the public debt and other subjects.

Table A. shows the bonds outstanding against the State, for what purpose, by what authority, and at what date issued, when due, and the amount.

Table B. shows the bonded debt of the State past due. Total $364,000. The first item of $53,000 consists of ten year registered bonds issued under acts of 1848 and 1850, known to be due, but the books in the office do not show the date of maturity.

Table C. exhibits the year of maturity of bonds not yet due issued before the war, showing the aggregate in each year.

Table D. shows the amounts and time of maturity of bonds issued since May 20, 1861, for Internal Improvements. Total $1,619,000. Of these $455,000 for the benefit of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Rail Road Company, have been validated by an act of the General Assembly on conditions not yet complied with.

The bonds named as issued for the benefit of the Chatham Rail Road Company, were not issued directly to that Company, but $200,000 were delivered to the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road Company and $49,000 to the City of Raleigh in exchange for bonds of those corporations of like amount, and were then paid to the Chatham Rail Road Company by them for same amount of stock. The State is further secured, by a mortgage on the property and franchise, of the latter corporation. During the war the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road Company, paid to the State in discharge of its debt $180,000, and the City of Raleigh $1000.

Table E. shows the bonds and treasury notes of the State issued during the war for general purposes, and table F. debt (not bonded,) to Banks and individuals, likewise during the war. I have not felt at liberty to omit these from my report in advance of your action on the subject.

Table G. shows the condition of the banks of the State, omitting war public securities, and debits and credits of minor importance.

Table H. shows the condition of the Literary Fund, the assets of which are still in my office in consequence of a vacancy in the office of Treasurer of the Fund. It is manifest that the Common Schools cannot be carried on the present year without heavy taxation.

Table I. shows an approximate estimate of the ordinary expenses of the State Government to Oct. 1st, 1867, omitting interest on the public debt, making an aggregate of $506,495.

The books of the Treasury do not show on what classes of bonds the coupons are due and unpaid, but the whole amount past due, and which will reach maturity in a few months may be estimated in round numbers at $3,000,000.

If it be concluded to fund them, then these added to the ante-war debt will make $12,749,500, and if the Internal Improvement bonds issued during the war be added, the entire debt of the State, omitting all war debts for general purposes, will be $14,369,500, the annual interest on which is $862,170.

The State has sets off against this public debt, as follows:

1st stocks in N. C. Rail Road Company,		$3,000,000
Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road Company,		682,500
Atlantic and N. C. Rail Road Company,		1,066,000
Western N. C. Rail Road Company,		1,418,000
Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company,		350,000
		$6,516,500
2d bonds on City of Raleigh,	$48,000
Raleigh & Gaston R. R. Co.,	20,000
Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford R. R. Co.,	2,000,000
Western (Coalfield) R. R. Co.,	600,000
Accrued interest on these bonds to Jan. 1st, 1866,	307,625
Balance due on bond of Atlantic & N. C. R. R. Co.,	181,164,88	$3,156,789 88
Total Sets off		$9,673,289 88

This sum being deducted from the ante-war debt and interest, $12,749,500, leaves $3,086,210,12 as the balance of State indebtedness, or adding the debt incurred during the war for internal improvements (1,620,000,) a total of $4,706,210,12. While these sets off are unproductive at present, I believe in a short while under the revival of trade and travel, many will pay handsome dividends.

I have no means of estimating with any approach to accuracy, the receipts from the tax ordinance of the Convention. In some counties the officers do not appear to be moving with alacrity; in one, no person was found willing to qualify, in others, those liable refuse to answer as to their liabilities and submit to the penalty of the law. The execution of the ordinance was delayed by an unfounded rumor of its suspension by military orders. The receipts from other sources will be precarious and unreliable.

The chief financial questions before the Assembly will be,

1st. Whether any, and what effort will be made for payment of the past due bonds and coupons of the State?

2nd. Whether any, and what effort will be made to provide for payment of interest to accrue during the present year?

3d. Assuming that the interest on the public debt will not be paid at present, what revenue bill shall be passed to supply funds for the necessary support of the State Government?

In view of the difficulties of our situation, I respectfully recommend that provision be made for funding the past due bonds and coupons in 6 per cent. bonds of long date, and that this option be granted holders of coupons to accrue during the present year, and that provision shall not be made for their payment.

In my judgment this course is required by inexorable necessity.

North Carolina is a country of very great resources. Her fertile soil, genial climate, varied and valuable treasures of the field and the forest, minerals and metals, her fitness for the production of the great staples of the world, her situation on the Atlantic slope, near the centre of the Union, point to our State as destined to become one of the great centres of civilization and trade.

As has been shown above, she owns securities, which will soon be productive, nearly equal to her entire debt. Her population of one million people, two-thirds of whom are of the Anglo-Saxon race, with such a country and such advantages, will, if necessary bear the burden of a tax of $1,500,000, now little exceeding one half of one per cent. of their taxable property, as lightly as a feather.

But with all this promise of the future, the present condition of our tax-paying people is deplorable in the extreme.

The accumulated investments of capital have been swept away; their circulating medium has suddenly been converted into waste paper. With defective tools of trade, with insufficient supplies of animal power, with buildings decayed and lands deteriorated, with onerous taxes to the General government, they are called on to undertake a task which has filled the wisest political economists with dismay, to teach an ignorant race, suddenly emancipated from centuries of thraldom, the responsibilities and duties of free laborers.

The census of 1860 states the value of the real and personal property of the State at $358,000,000. This is manifestly an error, arising, as will be seen, from an inspection of the report of Mr. Kennedy, from the fact that at that time slaves were taxed as persons and not as property, and were not estimated in the valuation. The following estimate is, I think, substantially accurate:

The area of the State is about 30,000,000 acres, worth, at $5 per acre, $150,000,000. In 1860, the stock, farming utensils, household furniture, &c., &c., were of equal value. The number of slaves were 331,000, worth, at $600 each, say $200,000,000, making the value of the entire real and personal property of the State in 1860, $500,000,000. If the labor of the freedmen is not diminished by the withdrawal of compulsion, the transfer of its profits from the former owner to the laborer, will not affect the wealth of the State, however distressing to individuals. But whatever may be the ultimate fate of the negro, whether for refusing to bear his part in the development of the resources of this great country, he shall be pushed aside, like the Indian, by the sterner energy of the Caucassian, or whether he shall manfully assume the obligations of a freeman, it will not be safe until the experiment shall be fairly tried, to impose taxes founded on expectations of large returns from his labor. A poll tax of moderate amount may and should be collected, but for the present these 331,000 negroes, representing a capital of $200,000,000, will be to a large extent untaxable, nor can their employers, from the profits of their labor, be relied on to pay large sums to the State.

Of the other personal property, the casualties of war have annihilated at least $50,000,000 more, so that now on the most liberal principles of calculation, the entire real and personal property of the State, owned by the million white and colored inhabitants, does not exceed $250,000,000 or $250 to the head.

From this $250,000,000 of property, and from the polls or male population between the ages of 21 and 45, is to be derived the revenue to support the State Government and pay the interest on the public debt. The white polls returned in 1860 (Greene and Martin excepted, which made no returns) were 63,138. The colored polls, added to these, will make an aggregate of 100,000. This is greatly below the true number, but the Sheriffs will probably not find a larger number able to pay.

The estimate above made does not include all the losses of North Carolina by the war. The State had in the service of the Confederate States about 120,000 soldiers, and adding to these the negroes who deserted their homes, or were employed in building fortifications and other unproductive work, it may be safely estimated that the State was deprived of the labor of 100,000 men for four years, worth at least $80,000,000 beside the deficiencies caused by defective tools and want of animal power.

Besides, perhaps, 50,000 men lost their lives or were disabled in service, causing a further loss of producing power of $50,000,000 more.

If, however, all the property of the State existed as before the war, it is questionable whether a large tax should be raised the present year.

The circulation of the Banks of the State in 1861 reached nearly $8,000,000.

For the last three years of the war, the only currency used was Confederate and State Treasury notes. Most of the above notes are worthless, not even the Bank issues have any value as a circulating medium. A small quantity of specie, cotton, tobacco and rosin, escaped the impressing officer, and the "bummer," and the torch of the incendiary, but the proceeds of these have been mostly sent from the State in exchange for farming and other utensils, horses, and necessary articles of merchandise, so that U. S. currency has only to a small extent replaced the loss.

Holders of our obligations have no right to complain that North Carolina chooses to make a survey of her situation, and estimate her assets before calling upon her people for the full measure of her annual obligations. With time to recruit their shattered fortunes they will, ere a short while, restore the State to full financial credit.

In truth, the war is not yet entirely ended. The shock of arms has ceased and our people show no disposition to repine at what they consider the act of God, but martial law still prevails; the questions relating to the freedmen are decided before other than State Tribunals; the voice of our representatives cannot yet be heard in the National councils. All this is a burden upon our industry and deters from entering our borders, capital and labor from abroad.

It is impossible to frame a revenue bill until it be known whether provision shall be made for the payment of the interest on the public debt. Hence I refrain from any recommendation on that subject.

It will take time and industry to build up anew our prosperity, but in my judgment, the financial difficulties may be alleviated by the Banks of the State, using part of their available means in the formation of one or more National Banks, which may be done by permission of the General Assembly. The new institutions will attract capital from abroad, will introduce a circulating medium into the State, and will be of signal benefit to the people, the Public Treasury and the old banks.

If in addition to the establishment of National Banks of large means, the usury laws should be so amended as to give capital as remunerative return for its use in this as in other portions of the civilized world, we can safely anticipate an early restoration of our ancient prosperity.

Without means of borrowing temporarily in advance of receipts into the treasury, its operations may be often embarrassed. Formerly the Banks of this State were relied on for this purpose, but that resource has failed.

I recommend that the Public Treasurer be authorized, if it shall become necessary, to use the old six per cent coupon bonds belonging to the Literary Fund, as collaterals in the negotiation of temporary loans.

The Provisional Treasurer had in charge the collection and sale of scattered articles of State property, for the purpose of carrying on the Provisional Government. This business is not yet finished, and it will be necessary to appoint some officers to take it in charge, with power of using all lawful means to recover property belonging to the State, from persons wrongfully in possession thereof.

The Sinking Fund.

Want of time forbids my entering at length into the question of the continuance of the Sinking Fund. I incline to the opinion that the Fund should be continued, so far as the appropriation of certain receipts to the extinguishment of the public debt, but these receipts should be applied directly to the purchase of bonds of the State, which should then be cancelled, and appear no longer on the books of the Treasury as State debits. The theory of funds accumulating on compound interest, is a beautiful one, but for its developement, a long period of years, a generation of thirty years or more, is required. Besides the expense of its operation, in this time, will almost infallibly occur some great war or domestic revolution, which will sweep away the entire proceeds of the accumulation. Such was the case with Pitt's Sinking Fund, and such a fate has happened to ours.

It is important that information concerning the financial condition of the State should be disseminated among the people. It is likewise customary for the Treasurers of the different States and Territories to exchange copies of their reports. I recommend that two hundred copies of the Treasurer's report be hereafter printed for the use of this Department. The additional expense will be trifling.

The duties of the Chief Clerk of this office are very onerous and responsible.

The salary, $750, was fixed when the necessaries of life were only half of the present prices, and is entirely inadequate. I respectfully recommend an increase of the same to $1500 per annum.

Respectfully submitted,

KEMP P. BATTLE,
Public Treasurer.

"A Short Treatise on Chronology in General, and Especially on Classical Chronology."

Messrs. Editors:—The above is the title of a new Book now ready for the Press, by our learned and talented fellow-townsman, Col. Ed. Graham Haywood. This able and highly useful work, which will constitute a rare and standard contribution to American Literature, is to be published by subscription, and will be issued as soon as its accomplished author shall have received a sufficient number of subscribers, to justify him in undertaking its publication.

It is to be elegantly gotten up, in all respects, by one of the best American Publishers, containing about two hundred and fifty 12 mo. pages, and will be sent to subscribers at the exceedingly low price of $2,50 per volume. I think this is certainly cheap enough, considering the solid literary worth and classical character of the book.

When it is remembered how poorly Southern literary talent and productions have heretofore been encouraged and sustained at home, I trust I shall not be considered as entertaining improper sectional feeling, in the expression of the hope, that, as a Southern, and more especially, as a North Carolina book, it may receive an extensive Southern and North Carolina patronage. It is to be hoped that the days of indifference to Southern productions, are past and gone, and that the future will exhibit the genial dawn of a new era of encouragement and patronage of Southern Literature. The South amply abounds in resources of material, talent, learning and genius for contributing her proportional quota to our national Literature, if she will only employ, encourage and sustain them. But few books have been offered to the public, more deserving of patronage than the one under consideration. I hope the reading public, and especially that of our own community, will forthwith send in their subscriptions to this work, in order that its publication may be completed, and its author encouraged to undertake other contributions, for which his attainments and talents so eminently befit him.

Washington Gossip.

From the Correspondent of the Rich. Examiner.

Washington, January 17.

A large draft upon the South for ex-rebel evidence as to its present political and social condition will be made by the Committee on Reconstruction. A number of eminent Southerners, including a number who have been reconstructed and pardoned, will be summoned. The power of the Committee to send for persons and papers is unlimited. Some who are called will come reluctantly; for some of them will be obliged to express opinions or state facts which will be disagreeable to both sections.

The evidence may, or may not, on the whole, show that the Southern States and people vie with each other in their zeal to show their devotion to the Union. But practically, and for any political purpose, the South has given proof enough of its readiness to unite heartily with President Johnson in his views and efforts for the entire restoration of the Union, and its future prosperity, power and glory.

The Committee will produce towards the end of the session, or soon after its close, the greatest political campaign work ever yet undertaken by Congress. It will be got up regardless of expense, and will be distributed among all the voters in those States which are to be represented in the Fortieth Congress. The Congress which is to follow this will be one that will witness a restoration of Union or its separation into fragments.

The war is over, but the Union is not restored. The Attorney General of the United States does not admit that peace is established, neither does Mr. Conkling, or Mr. Colfax, or Senator Wilson. They are in error. The war is over on one side.

The resolutions of Mr. Conkling, who is an important member of the Joint Committee on Reconstruction, are very formidable. They would, if carried out, defer restoration for an indefinite time. They were not accepted with the promptness usually expected by the House. They evinced some hesitation even on a motion for reference.

A larger standing army is proposed that will be necessary for any purpose than that of employment in the Southern States. Seventy-seven regiments, if full, will cost some eighty millions of dollars. If it pass, we must relinquish any hope of such a reduction of expenditures as will assist the effort for a return to specie payment.

The agitation of the Alabama question in the Senate will be understood abroad to denote the possible contingency of a rupture with England. It is feared that the rising confidence in Government securities abroad will be prejudiced by it.

Members of Congress, in both Houses, offer resolutions of an exaggerated and radical character, and thus commit themselves to measures which a due consideration would prove to be inexpedient. Most of these propositions are for Buncombe. Some members, who have been suspected of moderation, are hedging by offering ultra radical measures.

Among the visitors recently at the White House was the Commissioner of Agriculture, who made a brave speech to the President, assuring him of his sanguine expectations for the early conglomeration of the States through the efforts of the Department of Agriculture. "The people have laid down their spears and are beginning to take pruning hooks; and although the fields are wasted and the land mourns," quoth Isaac, placing one hand patronizingly on the President's shoulder, "yet we will distribute the seeds of harmony, the fruits of concord and garden sass generally, so as to let the South see the effects of good government and the wisdom of your administration." Upon concluding his remarks, a copious dew was observed to be shed over the beaming countenance of Uncle Isaac; but the President preserved his usual equanimity and made no effort at reply. The employees of the department breathed easier upon the Commissioner's report of the effect of his address upon the President, and their appreciation of his abilities experienced no diminution.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CIRCULAR.

To the Public:

The undersigned has now ready for the press a volume, the result of the lucubrations of many years, entitled a "Short Treatise on Chronology in General, and especially on Classical Chronology." The work is not intended to be a chronological chart, nor yet a collection of dates and synchronistic tables. The author's aim has been to prepare a "Horn Book" of Chronology, containing the leading principles, laws and facts of that science.

The first part treats of measuring time and adjusting its various divisions; the second of fixing dates of historical events and arranging them in order; and the third, of miscellaneous matters important to the chronologist.

Under the first division are discussed the day, the week, the month, the year and certain cycles used in computing the civil calendar and preparing the Almanac; the origin, history, nature, character, and various sub-divisions of each, especially among the ancients.

Under the second division the methods of ascertaining the dates of the time when they occurred; the actual dates of some important eras whose epochs are disputed; the most important epochs and eras which have been employed at different times and by different nations, including those which are still in use; and the actual dates of the most prominent events in classical chronology.

Under the third and last division are considered the epochs and eras of less importance; a sketch of the chronology of India and of China; the principles of the art of mnemotechyny as applied to dates, and the different systems of that art which have been propounded.

The author believes that a work successfully executed upon this plan, though it may not contain very much that is new, cannot but be useful and profitable, not only to the reading public, but also to the youth of our country, in the acquisition of classical and historical learning: and history is the study of this age; it must always be the study of thoughtful men in times of revolution and great political changes, such as our country is at present undergoing.

The contributions of North Carolina, and of the Southern States of the Union generally, to American literature have heretofore been few, and for the most part, worthless. A few works of fiction and some fugitive poems include our past efforts; and with the excellent Latin Grammar, and the edition of Cæsar's Commentaries, prepared for the press by Col. Bingham—works the very best of their character which have ever fallen under our observation, and which, under more favorable circumstances, will yet win for their author that high reputation in his profession which he merits—our contributions to useful literature are of the very humblest character. Under such circumstances this book is, with some confidence, presented for public patronage.

The author proposes to publish by subscription. The cost of publication will be fifteen hundred dollars, or more. The book contains about two hundred and fifty 12 mo. pages. It will be brought out in the best style of one of our best American publishers, as to type, paper and binding. The cost of single copies delivered will be $2.50.

Persons desiring to subscribe can communicate with the undersigned at Raleigh, but subscription lists will be opened at various places of business in Raleigh and other towns in the State. Subscriptions will be required in cash at a essential to the success of the enterprise. Editors who will give this Circular a few insertions and forward a copy of their papers containing it to the author, will be furnished with a copy of the book.

The volume will be placed in the hands of the publisher as soon as the author's success is at all assured, and will be issued to subscribers a few weeks thereafter.

DAILY SENTINEL.

Monday, January 22, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

A Surprise.—One of the messengers of the Express surprised us on yesterday by handing us a bundle from New York addressed to "Raleigh Sentinel," which looked as if it might contain some destructive machine, to put an end to a poor fellow in short order. We eyed it closely and remembered that we had ordered nothing from Gotham. What could it be? We turned it over to our book-keeper to examine, who soon ascertained its contents. A present! What a present to an editor? Nay, it was a present to the ladies of both the editors, in the shape of two of "Bradley's Celebrated Patent Duplex Double Spring Skirts"!! with the compliments of our friend Drake of the celebrated house of Wests, Bradley & Cary, 97 Chamber Street, New York. We were happily relieved, and hereby express acknowledgements on behalf of the ladies, for the thoughtful consideration of our young friend, Mr. Drake. He may be sure that he will be remembered. The Skirts by the way, are the very thing.

Senator from Bertie.

We learn that David S. Taylor is the Senator elect from the County of Bertie, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Hon. Jno Pool.

General News.

The Norfolk Virginian says: A mad dog was killed on Thursday at the intersection of Bute and Princess streets. He had already bitten two dogs, one of which was killed, and the other is believed to be still at large.

It is rumored in Norfolk that the work at the navy yard will be suspended. A discharge of hands took place on Saturday.

The widow of Governor R. F. W. Allston advertises in the columns of the Charleston Daily News for boarding and day scholars for young ladies. Fortune has freaks but who could have thought of one so wild as this?

The last news from Charleston brings us intelligence of the death of Mrs. Rebecca Doyley Pinckney, who was, we believe, the last person who bore that famous name.

The Hon. William Izard Bull, whose house on the Ashley river, South Carolina, was recently burnt down, was shot at the other night by unknown assassins, supposed to be negroes.

Mississippi.—A committee of Mississippi legislature have reported against passing the constitutional amendment, not for any objection to the first, but to the second clause of said amendment.

Major General Howell Cobb, Secretary of the Treasury under Buchanan, is at Macon.

Secretary Stanton has ordered the withdrawal of all the War Department advertisements from The Intelligencer and Constitutional Union, the two Conservative Democratic journals at Washington.

The Rev. Edward M. Forbes has entered upon his duties as rector of Christ Church, Newberne N. C.

The Rev. Mr. Gilliam has resigned the charge of St. Paul's, Louisburg, N. C.

Corn in the West.—The largest crop of corn ever raised in the West was produced during 1865. It is used extensively as a substitute for coal, and makes a hotter fire. Corn is now selling in Chicago for thirty-seven cents per bushel, which is cheaper as fuel than coal at ten dollars per ton.

To the credit of the United States Government, Colonel Mosby, paroled, has been unconditionally released from his recent arrest.

Hon. John Bell has commenced a series of letters on national politics, which are published in the Louisville Journal.

General Featherston, of Holly Springs, Mississippi, late commander of a brigade in the Confederate army, has resumed the practice of law.

The Baltimore American's correspondent says: Of the 9,000 postoffices in the disloyal States, about 2,000 have been re-opened. Nearly 300 of these have received postmistresses, because no man could be found who could take the oath that he had not borne arms against his country. The ladies, though as rebellious in spirit, are able to take that oath.

A Chicago clergyman missed his stockings on Christmas morning, and after a long search found one on each horn of a milch cow, which had been presented to him by his parishioners, and ornamented in this way to indicate that it was a Christmas grift.

The New York Herald announces in double leaded editorial type, that the President has positively determined to reconstruct his Cabinet' retaining but two of the present members—Messrs. McCulloch and Dennison.

The New York Evening Post thinks "the leading Republicans will make a fatal error if they imagine that class legislation, unjust discrimination in favor of certain interests, mismanagement of the currency and the debt, and, above all, a mistaken and unsuccessful policy on the great question of reconstruction, will be endured by the country, even at their hands."

Ladies' Hair—The Very Latest Style.—A Washington paper, in its notice of the reception or levee of President Johnson, on Tuesday evening last, makes the following announcement, which will be startling to the ladies: "A peculiar style of wearing the hair last evening among the ladies was a subject of much comment, and the remarks were, for the most part, altogether in its favor, as a becoming substitute for the waterfall. The hair was allowed to fall its full length, without fetter or bond of any description, and was thought by many to be the most graceful style the ever changing empress fashion has yet presented to public patronage."

Trouble Dwelling with Maximilliam.

New York, Jan. 18.—Late Mexican news says that heavy reinceforcements have been sent to Monterey and Saltillo. It is feared trouble will occur at Matamoras with the Federal troops, who have openly sympathized with the Juarists and given them material aid. The Imperialists claim a victory at Puebla.

Kansas and the Southern Leaders.

St Louis, January 18.—The Kansas Senate, yesterday, passed a resolution favouring the trial, conviction of, and hanging of Jefferson Davis and the other leaders of the rebellion, who are equally guilty of treason.

A message from the House was received, transmitting various resolutions in reference to the Governor's Message, and bill providing for the appointment of Commissioners of the town of Goldsboro'.

The bill in behalf of disabled N. C. Soldiers, from the House, relative to procuring at the expense of the State artificial limbs, came up on its first reading, and on motion of Mr. Howard, the rules were suspended and the bill passed its second and third readings.

The Judiciary Committee reported that they deemed it unadvisable to take any action at present upon the bill for the relief of tax payers.

Mr. Gash introduced a bill to establish a Penitentiary and Work Houses. The bill was read and it was ordered to be printed and referred to the committee on Propositions and Grievances.

A message from the House proposing to make appointments of Justices of the Peace, asking the concurrence of the Senate. Agreed to and the Senate proceeded to consider the various recommendations.

Pending the consideration of this question, Mr. Stanford arose to a privileged question, and after announcing the death of the late Senator from Sampson, Mr. Faison, he offered the following resolutions, in support of which, he paid an eloquent and merited tribute to the memory of the deceased. Messrs. Williams and Howard followed in brief, but touching and appropriate remarks, whereupon the resolutions were unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, By the inscrutable will of the Supreme Architect of the Universe, Thos. I. Faison a member of this body, from the county of Sampson, has been suddenly cut down in the midst of his usefulness:

Therefore Resolved, That we have heard with deep regret of the sudden death of our much esteemed fellow member, and that our heartfelt sympathies are hereby tendered to the afflicted family of the deceased in their sad bereavement.

Resolved, That in the death of T. I. Faison, this body has lost a valuable and industrious member, and the State a useful and patriotic citizen.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased the Senate do now adjourn until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Senate adjourned accordingly.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Saturday, Jan. 20, 1866.

The House of Commons was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Mr. Moore, of Alamance, a bill to incorporate the town of Company Shops, in the county of Alamance. Referred to the same committee.

The House concurred in a message from the Senate proposing to raise a joint committee to inquire into the necessity of refitting the Governor's residence, and report by bill of otherwise.

Messrs. Dargan, Baxter and Allison were appointed the House branch of this committee.

On motion of Mr. Wheeler, a message was sent to the Senate proposing to raise a Joint Committee on so much of the Governor's message as relates to a donation of lands by the Congress of the United States.

On motion of Mr. McAden, a message was also sent to the Senate, proposing to raise a joint committee on so much of the message as relates to banks and banking.

On motion of Mr. Waugh, a message was sent to the Senate, proposing to rescind the joint order for the appointment of justices of the peace at 12 o'clock to-day, and proposing that the hour of 11 o'clock be substituted. The Senate concurred.

Mr. Rayner, by leave, introduced a resolution to print 200 copies of the Treasurer's Report for interchange with the Treasurers of other States and territories—the residue to be distributed under the direction of the Treasurer.

This resolution passed its several readings under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Donnell, by leave, introduced "a bill to extend relief by injunction," which was referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

A bill to legalize an election of Mayor and Commissioners in the town of Goldsboro', was put on its second reading and rejected.

At 11 o'clock, A. M., the House proceeded to execute joint order for the appointment of Justices of the Peace.

When the list for Granville county was presented, Mr. Jenkins, of Granville, objected to the appointment of Mr. L. A. Paschall, because he favored the payment of bonds issued during the war, by said county for the support of the families of indigent soldiers.

Mr. Dalby urged that Mr. Paschall be appointed, and stated that he was eminently qualified for the position. The House over-ruled the objection, and Mr. Paschall's name was retained.

When the county of Randolph was called, Mr. Jenkins, of Warren, objected to the appointment of John C. Hill, of that county on the ground that he was a deserter from the 46th. N. C. Regiment.

Mr. Ashworth, who presented the list, did not know whether Jno. C. Hill, was a deserter or not. He had been strongly recommended by citizens of the district in which he resided, for appointment as a magistrate.

Mr. Jenkins of Warren, moved that the name be stricken from the list, and on his motion the yeas and nays were ordered.

The name was stricken out by the following vote:

Ayes.—Messrs. Allison, Arrington, Barnet, Blackmer, Bonner, Burgess, Cameron, Cox, Dalby, Dargan, Everett, Foster, Gaines, Harper, Hoke, Hutchison, Hyman, Jinkins of Warren, Joyner, Judkins, Kenan, Lee of Gates, Logan, Lucas, Luke, Manly, Marler, McAden, McEachen, Moore of Alamance, Moore of Martin, Murphy, Niven, Paschall, Thigpen, Whitley, Williams, Yellowley.—39.

Speaker, Ashworth, Beasley, Blythe, Caldwell Candler, Coates, Craige, Davis of Carteret, Donnell, Dunn, Faircloth of Green, Ferrell, Garland, Henry, Houston, Jenkins of Gaston, Jenkins of Granville, Jones, Kinney, McDonald, McGuire, McIntosh, Moore of Chatham, Mott, Nicks, Newsum, Simmons, Stilley, Scoggin, Teague, Trull, Waugh, Wheeler, York. 35.

When Wayne county was called Mr. Everett presented a list of names for appointment, for which his colleague Mr. Faircloth, offered a substitute.

Mr. Everett, in response to an inquiry, endorsed the character and ability of those he had nominated.

After some discussion between Messrs. Faircloth and Everett, relative to the respective merits of the two lists, the substitute was rejected and the list offered by Mr. Everett was adopted.

Mr. Dargan introduced a bill authorizing the Provisional Clerks of the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Session, to qualify the newly appointed magistrates.

The bill was amended by authorizing Superior Court Clerks also, to administer the oaths of office in the event of the death of County Court Clerks—and then passed its several readings under a suspension of the rules.

An engrossed bill from the Senate to punish horse stealing, was read the first time and referred to the Judiciary committee.

The House then adjourned until Monday 10 o'clock, A. M.

Valuable Suggestions on the Treatment of Horses and Cattle—The "Black Tongue."

From a communication to the National Intelligencer on the treatment of horses and cattle, we make an extract which will be interesting, and perhaps valuable at a time like the present, when it is not known that on any day the Rinder pest or cattle disease which bids fair to exterminate the horned cattle of the British Isles, may make its appearance on our side of the water:

"The Scriptures teach us that the 'merciful man is merciful to his beast;' and this evidently implies not only the avoidance of abuse and excessive labor, but requires good care for food and comfort also. The ordinary way in which horses are used, terminates the life of the majority of them in less than half their natural age for service. Their organization is much more fine and delicate than that of the ox. Their nervous temperament is more excitable, and approaches that of the human system, and their diseases strongly partake of a similar character. Therefore, their diet, comforts and exercise should conform to such temperament. Their stables should be clean, well-bedded, moderately warm and yet well ventilated to secure health.

"The ox will endure greater hardship, and yet the like care with them will yield its profit.—Cattle that are pastured upon low, wet lands are not as healthy and vigorous as those pastured upon dry hills; nor is their meat as healthy for man's food as that of up-land stock: and if, in addition to low pastures, they are exposed to severe storms, without shelter, as is too often the case on the Western praries, they will be strongly predisposed to diseases of the lungs and bowels, and most likely a low grade of fever also. Many persons will recollect the sick wheat and milk sickness of the western section of our country, and such or similar diseases are incident to rich, low lands, in a greater or less degree, the world over. If such are the facts, and my observations for fifty years are to that opinion, one would naturally infer that similar treatment to that required by the human system, would be equally beneficial, and that often anodynes, stimulants and tonics are important to the brutes as to man. I have often wondered that cattle, and especially horses, live at all under the operation of the large doses that are given them. Fifteen times the dose for a man is considered a medium dose for a horse. Now, it is not unusual (in this section) to give a quarter of a pound of aloes at one dose, and repeat it in a few hours. That quantity is enough for fifteen or sixteen full medium doses for a horse or cow. Such treatment can only arise from recklessness or ignorance. I know nothing of the cattle disease now prevailing in England, but I well recollect a cattle disease that prevailed in New York in 1819 and 1820, called the 'black tongue,' from the color which it gave to that organ, and many cattle and horses died with it.

"The following preparation was used as a preventive, with good results—or good fortune—for where it was used cattle almost invariably escaped the disease. Glauber salts, one pound; copperas, one-fourth pound; sub. nitre, two ounces; mix and pulverize fine. One ounce of this mixture was given to each creature, wet up with a little bran or shorts, once a day for three or four days in succession; and afterwards once in three or four days for two or three weeks. When cattle were attacked, in addition to the above prescription given twice a day, from a pint to a quart of good brewer's yeast in a state of fermentation, given also twice a day, had a most beneficial effect; and but few cattle died where that course was pursued. Sometimes a quart or two of strong beer was given with good results. When the beast was in pain, or the evacuations were bloody, which was sometimes the case, two or three ounces of elixir paregoric, added to the yeast or beer, was highly useful."

If You are threatened with Pneumonia, read the following from Capt. W. P. Davis, of Petersburg, Virginia:

"Sympathy for the suffering prompts me to certify that my servant man was suffering in the last stage of Pneumonia throwing up matter and blood in large quantities; his case was considered hopeless, so much so, that there was no medical prescription used for his recovery; I regarded him as good as dead. Hearing of the great cures made by the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS, I thought that I would try an experiment on him; without any hope of success however, I gave the Pills in large doses; in a short time, to my great surprise, there was a change for the better. I continued giving them to him until he became a perfectly sound man. He is now attending to his work with as much strength and vigor as he ever did. With his case, and what I have seen and heard of the good effect of these Pills, I do most earnestly recommend them as the best family medicine I have ever seen or used."

COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly

Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative.

The Cosmopolite will be devoted to

Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and the Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the VERY FIRST magazines of the country.

As its name imports, we have established the Cosmopolite upon a non-sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone, and will be influenced by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following

Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$4 00
Five Copies for one year,	8 00
Ten copies for one year,	33 00

☞ The Cosmopolite will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South, and we will add, for their information, a few advertisements, at moderate rates.

☞ Literal deductions will be made to booksellers and newsdealers.

☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address

DE LEON & CO.,
P. O. Box 266, Baltimore, Md.

Jan 18 135, tf

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of a

The North Carolina Presbyterian

will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.

Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from the rich own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause, for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth.
